Creating a Positive Experience for Prospective Members — Working with prospective members is a delicate task.

TOGETHER WE CONNECT, TOGETHER WE GROW

RI President Mark Daniel Maloney is challenging club and district leaders to grow Rotary. In his speech at the International Assembly in January, he called on leaders "to grow our service, to grow the impact of our projects, but, most importantly, to grow our membership so that we can achieve more." You play an important role in helping to achieve his vision and ensure that Rotary Connects the World.

Explore the options below to learn how you can begin growing Rotary.

Create a membership committee

Successful membership growth requires an organized approach. Maloney is asking each of the 2019-20 district governors to name a district membership chair and urging every club to form a membership committee. Your club membership committee can help you create, update, and execute an action plan to attract and engage members.

Download the Club Membership Committee Checklist for step-bystep instructions on how to identify, introduce, invite, and engage potential members.

Reflect the diversity around you

Make sure your club's members mirror the community it serves. Diversity is one of Rotary's core values. Clubs whose members have diverse backgrounds and viewpoints are more vibrant and serve their communities better. A membership committee whose members represent the diversity of its club and community can help you achieve this goal.

Download the membership diversity assessment to raise awareness of the diversity in your community and help your club achieve it.

Welcome family members to club activities and events

Be realistic about time expectations and thoughtful when scheduling meetings and events. Ensure club activities are family-friendly for young and old alike.

Start new clubs and offer different meeting formats

It's not just about forming new Rotary and Rotaract clubs in areas that don't already have them. It's also about appealing to current and potential members whose needs aren't being met by existing clubs. During the last three years since the Council on Legislation voted to allow clubs more flexibility, clubs have successfully tried various innovative membership models and meeting formats to attract new members.

To see some of these ideas at work, read the club innovation stories in each issue of The Rotarian.
